Row The following "first rate notice" of "The Phillips" we find in the Middletown Journal of this week: "This ever popular Hotel, with its jovial proprietor, J. H. Hubbell, Esq., is moving along swimmingly with the tide—prospering finely—as the large number that throng the dining hall daily will amply testify. His table is always loaded in the richest profusion with the 'fat of the land,' which with polite and attentive waiters, make if really a pleasure to dine there. Friends, when you go to Dayton call on Col. Hubbell, at the Phillips—you will find everything all right and according to your style.

D. L. G.—Excussion—Future or true. Thousand evidences of the sway of nature, in her own wild woods. The soil is almost entirely changed; and we may say that quite a different nature or principle exists in the earth after the formations have been changed or destroyed by plowing, and the changes which are constantly going on where the ground is continually exposed to the free scope of sun and air.

Forest trees will grow best in the forest; they can only be made to thrive where their condition is made as near natural as possible. Those who plant them out in ground that is not well prepared, and adapted to their growth, need not expect a vigorous growth, and indeed may be surprised if they grow at all. Another, and probably the greatest, reason why trees thrive

D. L. G.—Excussion.—Future of the fact that the Dayton Light Guard would celebrate their 4th Anniversary by an excursion to Steele's Hill, and target shooting. It was the largest company parade we remember to have ever seen in Dayton, and in some respects the most unusual.
